Despite some public efforts, our environment remains under severe threat. But many of the solutions offered are individual ones – recycling, driving hybrid cars, changing the kind of light bulbs we use. What is needed is a larger scale reaction and a deep transformation of our relationship to the world. Can this kind of change happen under capitalism?

David Barsamian, the award-winning founder and director of Alternative Radio, has altered the media landscape with his radio programs and books with Noam Chomsky, Tariq Ali, Howard Zinn, Edward Said, Arundhati Roy and others. Winner of the Media Education Award, the ACLU's Upton Sinclair Award for independent journalism, and the Cultural Freedom Fellowship from the Lannan Foundation, Barsamian has also been named a Top Ten Media Hero by the Institute for Alternative Journalism.
